Caveo products are the highest expression of the company's competency and technological capacity, combining extreme efficiency, durability and reliability.

At Caveo, we promote continuous improvement, efficiency and innovation of our products to increase safety, comfort and performance.

CAVEO R&D CHALLENGE

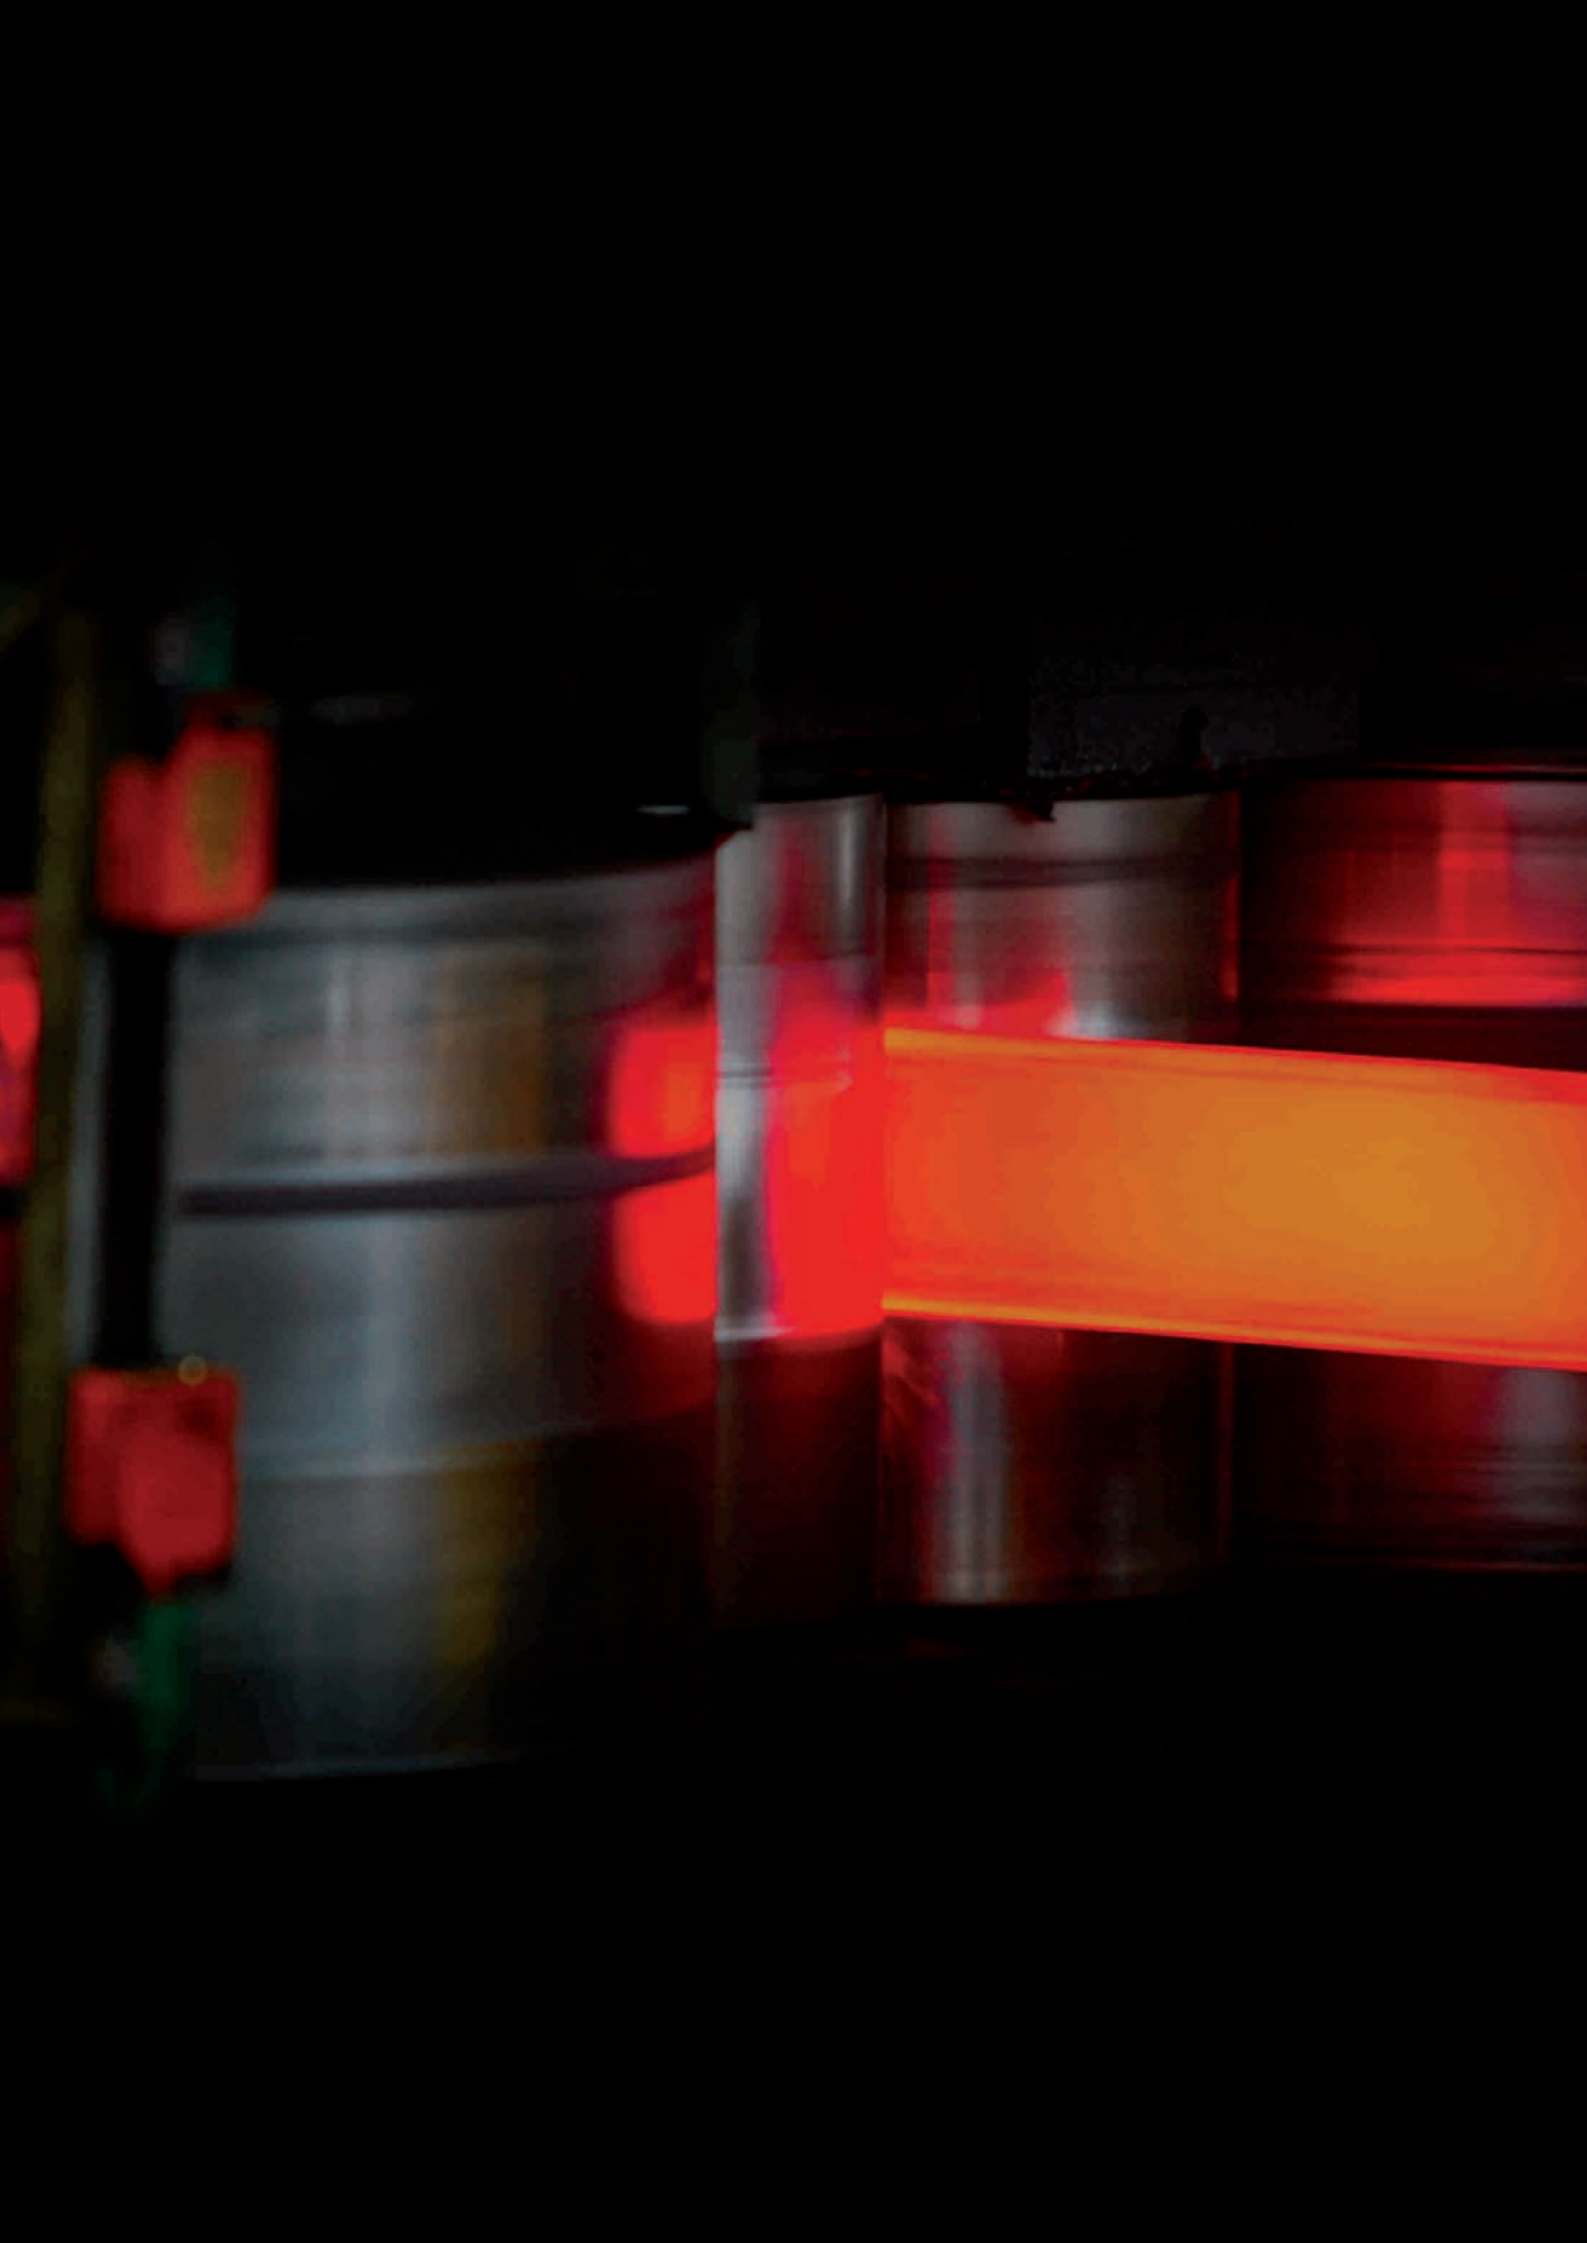

Focused on R&D, a priority and a great challenge for the company's worldwide expansion, Caveo's highly qualified engineering division contributes decisively to bring groundbreaking expertise and technology to the automotive market.

Caveo develops its own technology and works continuously in close cooperation with technological centers to deliver solutions to customers' present and future needs. Caveo cooperates with customers and engineering departments in co-designing new products.

This constant search for continuous improvement combined with our advanced design and manufacturing processes result in innovative and high quality products that increase customers' competitiveness.

Non stop search for innovation allows Caveo to provide customers with solutions for present and future requirements.

CAVEO THE SUPPORT OF QUALITY

Quality is not just an objective. It is also a guarantee for Caveo because it ensures that its products are flawless and that customers will be satisfied. That is why it has the ISO TS 16949 and ISO 14001 international certificates and the reason why its human capital directs its culture towards Total Quality. Besides, Caveo uses the best raw material and state-of-the-art testing and monitoring processes for operationally confirmed quality.

In its constant search for excellence, Caveo not only has continuous training programs for its professionals but is also always respectful with the environment through new projects for waste treatment and energy control, the integration of water based paints and the continuous improvement of production processes.

That is Caveo's guarantee as well as its customers'.

Quality for Caveo is a commitment, the result of operational efficiency and the best guarantee that its products will meet customers' expectations.

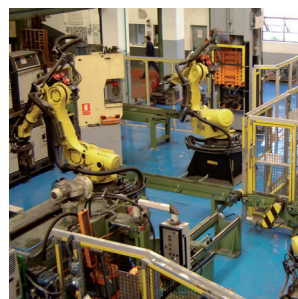

CAVEO WORLDWIDE PRESENCE

Establishing worldwide presence of its products is embedded in Caveo's international vocation, as are developing its technological capacity and ongoing innovation.

Today, Caveo is an international expanding company with a clear worldwide focus and orientation. It is part of a solid organization which works in close cooperation with international manufacturers of vehicles to identify and adapt to the different needs of each market and to offer the most adequate products for each of those places taking into account their specific features and attributes.

This commitment to worldwide customers is a driving force to continue to strengthen Caveo's market positions and to define Caveo's global future.

Caveo is expanding its international presence progressively with production locations and logistic platforms in Europe and Africa in order to have close and efficient contact with all customers.
